Poignant, passionate, and sizzling with spice Houston Ballet ends the season with a bang in Don Quixote. Plenty of fancy footwork, authentic Spanish flavored dance, and comic interludes bring to life the story based on Cervantes' classic novel. In the ballet, the idealistic, eccentric Don Quixote goes on a quest in search of his ideal woman Dulcinea – while real-life lovers Kitri and Basilio battle against all odds and unite in true love. Thomas Boyd's spectacular scenery and Judanna Lynn's lavish costumes beautifully evoke the world of sunny Spain in which the ballet unfolds.

For our second “Unconventional Ballet at the Convention Center,” Global Movements has been completely reimagined by Artistic Director Stanton Welch as Play with memorable ballets created just for this unique space. Welch’s beloved Play and Bolero return but both re-worked and re-choreographed and additional new works to be announced including a World Premiere ballet by Welch celebrating Houston’s resilience. With a stage that extends into the audience on three sides, this theater creates an immersive experience, bringing you closer to the dancers than ever before. It’s an event not likely to be repeated.

“Houston is a very resilient city. You can tell that about the fabric of this community by the way we all helped each other through Hurricane Harvey and returned to our lives as best we could so quickly. When devastating and horrific things happen, the arts are the first to come back. We respond by making poems, songs and dances about our experiences. This program will celebrate our community. We all went through this, and now we are writing and creating about it together. We shared this experience. We love this city. This is our reaction.”

-Stanton Welch, Houston Ballet Artistic Director
